

White Board Activity

This interactive game is a fun way to engage BRAD attendees! Participants are provided with prompts in a “fill-in-the-blank” fashion to express why animal research is important to them. We ask that you take pictures of participants with their completed prompts and send them to BRAD@amprogress.org. You may also post the pictures on social media during your event and tag the BRAD pages!

Materials needed:

- Laminated whiteboard prompts and dry erase board markers
OR
- Printed copies of prompts and markers or pens

Instructions:

1. Have the attendee pick a prompt and fill in the blank.
2. Take a picture of them with their prompt, and post it on Facebook
3. Be sure to tag the person in the photo and ask them to share it with their friends

Prompts: Below are the prompts included. Feel free to make up your own!

- I support animal research because...
- Animals in research are...
- Without animal research...
- ...because of animal research
