

Celebrating 10 YEARS of Biomedical Research Awareness Day!

Crossword Puzzle

Across

3. The governmental agency overseeing compliance with animal welfare laws in the U.S.
10. The scientific discipline that studies diseases in humans and animals.
12. A strategy that involves fewer animals being used in experiments.
13. This type of immunity occurs when a large percentage of a population is vaccinated, protecting those who cannot receive vaccines.
16. This organization accredits animal research programs for high welfare standards.
17. A program promoting awareness of the role of animals in research.
19. The type of research that uses animals to study diseases and treatments.

20. An enrichment item commonly given to rodents to promote natural behaviors.

Down

1. The process of teaching the public about the importance of animal research.
2. The field of medicine that studies how drugs affect biological systems, often using animal models.
4. The federal law in the United States governing the treatment of animals in research.
5. A document outlining the proper care and use of animals in research.
6. The "3 Rs" principle includes refinement, reduction, and...?
7. Before a new vaccine is tested in humans, it must go through this type of testing to assess safety and effectiveness.

8. This type of research involves studying diseases that affect both animals and humans to develop treatments and vaccines.
9. Profession responsible for ensuring the health and welfare of research animals.
11. The term for making experiments less distressing to animals.
14. An independent body that reviews animal research protocols for ethical standards.
15. Mice and these small rodents are commonly used in vaccine research due to their genetic similarity to humans.
18. This government agency oversees vaccine development and ensures their safety and effectiveness in the U.S.

Submit your completed form using the QR code to be entered into the BRAD Raffle.
The winner will be selected on Friday, April 18th at 5 PM ET.

