

Celebrating 10^{YEARS} of Biomedical Research Awareness Day!

The Research Dog

Dogs aren't just our best friends—they're also lifesavers in research! Their hearts, lungs, and other organs work a lot like ours, which makes them amazing partners in developing treatments like insulin for diabetes and vaccines for rabies. They've even helped scientists improve surgeries such as pacemaker implants—proving once again that dogs are total superheroes!